We were very pleased with Tim Altbaum productions, specifically the performance of Nick at our wedding. First and foremost, Nick did an OUTSTANDING job keeping our event on schedule with the timeline we had previously discussed, and even verified with me beforehand so that I was ready for each announcement. Overall the music selection and blend included a very wide variety, which we really appreciated as did our guests. There were a few artists on the list we provided you who did not get played (ie. Anita Baker) but we understand that we may have provided you with an over-abundance of choices, and Nick did a great job "reading the crowd" to gauge what should be played. We were extremely pleased that the music literally never stopped except for very brief, and important, announcements from Nick. We would gladly refer you to other customers in the future.
